JACKSONVILLE, MO.
By Ty Cobb

Last Thursday, March 17, the court house of Cole County was destroyed by fire. The fire started about 3:15 p.m. and was extinguished about 4:30 p.m. The building was a two-story structure, and the fire was caused by a gas stove in the kitchen. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Mr. Lewis Murphy is at home for recuperation. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, of St. Louis, were in Jacksonville, Mo., last Sunday evening. Mr. Murphy was in the city for a few days, and then returned to St. Louis. He is now at home, and is recovering from his illness. Mrs. Murphy is also at home, and is well.

THE EXODUS FROM THE SOUTHERN STATES

We, like Secretary McAdoo, say, that the greatest sacrifice a man can make for his country in this time of stress, is to seek other employment in order to improve your condition, and if needs be, go elsewhere to make the conditions better.

Negroes leave the South in order that their citizenship may not be dwarfed. In order that their children in time may be a credit to America and the race. In order to properly fit themselves and their relatives for the reception of democracy in its true sense. And above all, to escape from the tyranny of their oppressors.

Why does the Negro leave the South? Why does a man hasten from prison walls? Why does a captive bird fly as high into the air as possible, when it is liberated from its hateful cage?

Every Negro man and woman who has lived in the South for any length of time, will tell you that the air feels lighter, the fields seem more verdant, the Sun shines brighter in almost any other section of America than it does in the South.

Freedom, that boon for which all human beings crave and have craved since the world has been created, is the one great beacon which is tending to gradually depopulate the South of its Negro inhabitants. They are seeking that thing called freedom, journeying toward the sunlight of justice. Leaving the land of their torturers; just as the children of Israel left the realm of the Egyptians going somewhere in America or some other country where they may be able to educate and rear their children with out hindrance and without danger. Going where a man's color is not heralded as a badge of persecution. Migrating somewhere and to some place where justice is a reality and civilization not a sham. Seeking surroundings where the most humble citizen may live and pursue his daily vocation in peace and harmony.

They call it the "Sunny South," but there are countless thousands who will testify that shadows blacker than the blackest night come to mock the sunshine for the Negro. They say that the South is the Negro's native home and that it is there that he can live and thrive. True it is that he can live; but under such trying conditions as would blast the hope of any soul. With lynchings, burnings, whipping, Jim Crowism and inhuman treatment on every side, the Negro has learned the lesson that "danger lurks no more deadly than in the hearts of those whom we have called our friends."

Why condemn the Negro for leaving the South? Why wonder at the thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands who are seeking better environments? Why start investigations, when the real cause has been known for years, and known best to those who have had the making of the laws?

THE WORLD THROUGH A WINDOW

It is a poor view one gets of the world looking out of a window. The procession goes by, and one sees it. The snow fall, and one beholds it upon the ground. A car hurries past, and it is taken note of, and the men and women and little children move across the pane of glass through which one peers, but it is a poor view of the world just the same.

To see the world and to know it, one must get out of the house he must march with the procession, and be of the procession. He must meet people face to face, and hear their voices, and allow them to hear his voice, before he knows them—and it is hard enough to know them even then.

There are a lot of people who have seen the world only by looking out of a window. Such people usually overrate themselves, and underrate all else besides. Their views of life and of the world are as narrow as the pane of glass through which they peeped at life, or at the world. Their sympathies are as shallow as their thoughts. However, there criticisms may be expressed in classic terms. The world is all right when you know it; people are all right when you know them. But no man's judgment of the world or of people, is of any value if he has looked too long through a window.

UNION MEMORIAL CHURCH REVIVAL

A Great Lenten Revival at Union Memorial Church. Last Sunday a Great Day—More Than a Score of Persons Came to the Service. The Organist: Howard D. R. E. Jones of New Orleans, La.

There is a great spiritual awakening at Union Memorial Church in the Lenten revival now going on. Crowds of people hear Dr. Jones every night, but last Sunday the capacity of the church was taxed all day and more than a score of people came into church fellowship.

Next Sunday will be "Union Day." The Sunday school will observe it as Children's Day. Parents are requested to bring or send their children to the service at 9 A.M. Dr. Jones will preach a special sermon to the children at 9:45 A.M.

Other services of the day will be as follows:
11 A.M. Sermon—"Grand United Order of the Sons of God," by Dr. R. E. Jones.

2 P.M. The Masonic Temple and the Home of Justice will hold service at 2 P.M. Sermon—"The Universal King, the Typical Democrat," by Dr. R. E. Jones.

The singing is a special feature of every service. It is inspiring and edifying.

If you get a wet, wet Sunday, you must come early, for the crowds will be here and seats will be at a premium even in the gallery.

Good Friday, March 29, Prof. General Taylor has prepared the choir to read the Scriptures. It will be an inspiring service. No admission fee charged, just bring an offering.

Passion Week—Holy week there will be something special every night.

Make Peanut Butter at Home by Grinding Nuts Through a Food Chopper

Dollars peanut butter—a highly nutritious food—may be made at home by grinding the roasted nuts in a food chopper, according to Miss Flora Monroe, director of the cafeteria in the Kansas State Agricultural College.

The housewife may vary her use of this food from the customary use in sandwiches. Breads, soups, breads and cakes are enriched by the use of peanut butter. It serves both as shortening and thickening and adds flavor and color.

The true worth of peanut butter has never been realized, believes Miss Monroe. "It has been generally considered a difficult food to digest, and consequently has been avoided in the diets. When properly manufactured it is easily digested."

A prejudice against peanut butter is often caused by ignorance in its use. The butter should be combined with twice the amount of this cream of milk, and stirred until it is of the creamy consistency of mayonnaise. The flavor can be varied by adding chopped pickles or onions, catsup, onion juice, cheese or fruits.

Dishes stuffed with peanut butter are appetizing. Whole-wheat muffins, drop cakes, and waffles are a few of the numerous ways in which this food may be used. It adds a delicious flavor to

SAYINGS OF A SAGE

It is awfully hard to generate any respect for a man who wears a lot of pins on his fingers.
Husbands and wives should remember that they married for worse as well as better and act accordingly.

A woman declares that she has the best husband on earth, but that he is not as good as expected to be, but in heaven.

A woman who is satisfied with her neighbor is never satisfied with herself—but who ever saw a woman satisfied with her neighbor?

Spring Typhoid

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON
Commissioner of Health of Pennsylvania

The news of the loss of our transport reminds us of the way in which we are to be robbed of our young people during this year, and should we, as a nation, be so careless as to permit the necessity of guarding our lives and protecting ourselves against disasters so, less dangerous, from now on typhoid must be carefully watched as an enemy.

Old winter has stored the fifth of the season on our shoulders and along the banks of the streams. With the melting of the snow and ice in the spring, all of this filth will be washed into the streams and carried to our waterworks. This will test the filter plants in their capacities, many of which have too small a margin to care for an excessive flow of filth. Breakdowns will occur and the people must be prepared to protect themselves by boiling water for domestic purposes upon the first indication of trouble with their local water supplies.

In view of the above, the question ought to arise in the people's minds, with all the money that is being spent in the beautifying of our cities, whether or not it would not be wiser to use this money for the enlarging and improving of the purification plants so that our waters may be safe, and wait a little longer for our boulevards and parkways. We evidently must use known ways, and where possible, devise new ones, to protect the health of the young population and to conserve what we now have from unnecessary destruction.

American Soldiers Buried in France, Each Grave Marked

Word having come from Washington that a new organization was being formed, known as the Purple Cross association, a body of undertakers who are anxious to go to France to assume charge of the bodies of the dead, the actual arrangements of the army are now being written, writes a war correspondent.

The new association wishes to be allowed to follow the troops to the front line to receive the body of every man who is killed or dies from natural causes and after embalming it, ship it back to the States. This arrangement is important, as it would mean that many ships probably would be needed for this work.

The American expeditionary force has a grave registration service, which is a division in the chief quartermaster's department. At the head of this department is a major of the regular army, who is responsible for the proper burial of the American soldiers who die in France and for the registration and marking of their graves.

Two officers and 50 men in each division do this work, and these units will be increased later on. Two American cemeteries have already been laid out in France and several hundred more have been plotted nearer the front. Each grave is marked with an iron stake and in each is deposited the soldier with proper identification. In addition photographs and descriptions of the spot are made and sent to the soldier's relatives at home.

SHALL THE NEGRO JOIN LABOR UNIONS?

(By George Browning)

Shall the Negro join the Labor Union, is a question that the working class is asking. The question is not a new one, but it is a question that is being asked with more and more frequency. The Negro is a man who is in the right of just and recent experience of many Negroes who have been seeking to join the labor union, and who have been told that they are not wanted. The Negro is a man who is in the right of just and recent experience of many Negroes who have been seeking to join the labor union, and who have been told that they are not wanted. The Negro is a man who is in the right of just and recent experience of many Negroes who have been seeking to join the labor union, and who have been told that they are not wanted.

Wharf efforts once were made to form a union of colored riveters, skilled laborers from the North addressed them in a big hall. But the colored workers were singularly indifferent to the remarks of the largest and tallest of the riveters unfolded himself from the crowd and said: "I don't want to join a union, I want to join a family."

The union agitators want the Negro to be the "boss" in their present strike movements, and if by his assistance they win their fight, the Negro will be "hired out" as usual.

Every Negro who has been given employment and fair treatment by his employers, who fails to stand by them in the face of this crisis in the history of our common country, will be guilty of ingratitude of the worst kind. It is no time for strikes, and every man, white or black, who is not a member of one of our industries, in helping to plant a German bullet or barbed in the body of some American soldier in France, SHALL THE NEGRO JOIN LABOR UNIONS UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS? NO! A THOUSAND TIMES NO!!
